

MARY BAKER EDDY LIBRARY

quest, monitor and hall of ideas galleries

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

The Mary Baker Eddy Library for the Betterment of Humanity houses the collection of its namesake as well as thought provoking contemporary exhibits about spirituality and health. Explus, Inc. worked closely with designer Krent-Paffett Associates and the client throughout the project to ensure the intent and quality of the design where maintained. The exhibit is installed in the recently renovated 1930's Christian Science Publishing building in Boston, Massachusetts. The galleries are the Quest Gallery, the Monitor Gallery and the Hall of Ideas. Each gallery features stunning exhibitry and cutting edge technological interactive experiences designed to engage, challenge and inspire visitors to this truly unique space. Explus, Inc. was the integral part of a complex group of subcontractors and client subcontractors.
